

Media Release
18 April 2008

Interactive Arts features new business Appreciating Music

Interactive Arts, a unique Perth-based business promoting artists, musicians and events, and selling unique gifts online, is featuring a new online business, Appreciating Music at its first event for 2008; Interactive Arts Exhibition and Eu4ria String Quartet Recital.

The recital will be held in the exhibition space on Friday 2 May and all patrons to this recital will have access to a free guided listening tour of the music performed at the recital courtesy Appreciating Music.

Appreciating Music owner Daemon Clark "A Guided Listening Tour has been prepared for the Interactive Arts - Eu4ria Recital, covering each of the movements of the two quartets on the programme. These pieces are introduced and discussed so that when you come to hear them live in recital, you can enjoy a more profound listening experience. "

Interactive Arts Exhibition details are as follows:

Art Exhibition: 1 – 4 May from 9am until 5pm in the gallery space (ground level) at the Subiaco Arts Centre. Artists featured include Ken Allen, Daemon Clark, Ruth Jeffrey, Bianca Manno, Lorna Murray and Russell Toyn. Free to the general public.

Recital: Friday, 2 May from 6pm – 8pm by string quartet Eu4ria. This includes an exclusive cocktail function with quality food and wine prior to the event. For tickets contact Interactive Arts on 08 9380 6530.

Meet the Artists: 1 – 5 May from 9am until 5pm daily. Artists, musicians and designers will be on hand to meet the public and discuss their works.

Appreciating Music Background

AppreciatingMusic.com is an exciting new online series of guided listening tours through classical music. The Basics Series comprises a ten week course of tours through works by Beethoven, Mozart, Bach, Vivaldi, Chopin and more. Each tour introduces a masterpiece in recorded segments with a discussion of what's going on in the music. Each extract is available for listening at your leisure as you follow the informative commentary, and these segments build to form complete movements by the end of each individual tour.

Interactive Arts Background

Interactive Arts is a unique Perth-based business promoting artists, musicians and events, and selling unique gifts on line via www.interactivearts.com.au

The web site offers a range of art and gift items for sale and suits a variety of budgets – from works of art to music lessons or cards.

It also introduces the work of talented artists and musicians, bringing them directly to people's home no matter their location.

New offerings for 2008 includes gift cards collaborating with textile artist Lorna Murray, who's received national recognition for her costume work; and Trio Bella Musica who present fresh arrangements of popular classics.

Ends

Media Contact: Fleur Allen, Interactive Arts, Ph 0412 473248, E: fleur@interactivearts.com.au